

English / Writing, B.S.

C. S. Mott Community College

This bachelor’s degree program prepares students for careers in writing. The English Writing major includes a literature component and a writing component. The literature component exposes students to American and British authors from different periods, thus providing insight into how various authors work and craft their pieces. For the writing component, students must choose two concentrations from the following: Journalism, Fiction, Nonfiction, Poetry, Technical Writing, Drama, and Media Writing.

NMU’s English Department also offers majors in English, English Writing, and Secondary Education English. NMU’s Communication and Performance Studies Department offers a major in Multi-Media Journalism. For more information about any of these majors, contact an NMU transfer admissions counselor.

Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA): Students who transfer to Northern Michigan University from a Michigan community college who have Michigan Transfer Agreement Satisfied posted on their transcript will be considered to have met the requirements of NMU’s Liberal Studies/General Education program. Students will still be expected to complete all other degree requirements, including graduation requirements (world cultures, health promotions, and lab) and any courses listed as “Other Required Courses” that may also be Liberal Studies/General Education courses. Degree requirements can be found at www.nmu.edu/catalog. Transfer students who do not complete the entire block of courses required by the MTA will receive credit for courses they do complete on the basis of individual evaluation and established transfer equivalencies.
